About LCOY

Local Conferences of Youth (LCOY) are events by YOUNGO, the official children and youth constituency to the United Nations Framework Convention of Climate Change - UNFCCC. LCOY organisers bring the annual climate negotiations to their home countries and make sure that words are turned into action. At LCOYs, young people connect to each other, teach, learn, and organise themselves to make their voices heard to our state leaders. LCOYs form a network in which youth can connect across borders and explore ways to collaborate on a regional and global level.

About the Host

Brahma Kumaris, with its spiritual headquarters in Mt. Abu, India, comprises a worldwide network of over 7000 centres in 110 countries and is an international non-governmental organization of the United Nations accredited with General Consultative Status with the Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC); Associate Status with the Department of Public Information (DPI); Consultative Status with United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF); Observer Status to the United Nations Environment Assembly of UNEP; Observer Organization to UN Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC); Flagship Member of Education for Rural People (ERP), Food and Agricultural Organization (FAO) and recently accredited Civil Society Organisation(CSO) with United Nations Convention to Combat Desertification(UNCCD).

Brahma Kumaris Environment Initiative is about awakening greater environmental awareness within our own organization, as well as collaborating and learning from others through dialogue, partnerships, UN conferences and local initiatives as a spiritual organization our main aim is to help people to experience greater well-being through inner peace and universal values. Our BK Environment Initiative, which has been taking part in the COY since 2011, provides youth with workshops on the connection between consciousness and climate change and self-empowerment through meditation. We are glad to be organizing the LCOY-15, INDIA, 2019.
