

BK Activities at COP29 at a glance

The delegation will lead or take part in a number of activities, including panel discussions, press conferences, an exhibition. A brief summary is below.

Monday 11.11.2024	COP29 Exhibition
11-16 Nov.	A transformation of consciousness and systemic thinking can create opportunities for benevolent technologies and sustainable lifestyles. BKWSU, FARSO, GPIW &amp; ISMUN exhibit renewable energies, tree plantations, young leaders' climate projects and advocate for a just, people-centred energy transition. Organised by: The Brahma Kumaris, Faith Assoc. of the Rehabilitation of Street Children and Orphans, Global Peace Initiative of Women, Int. Youth and Student Movement for the United Nations	Booth 12	COP delegates
Wed. 13.11.2024	COP29 Press Conference
13.00-13.30	Values Guiding the Just Transition to Clean Energy <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Maureen Goodman, Programme Dir., Brahma Kumaris, UK</li> <li>• Golo Pilz, Adviser Renewable Energy</li> <li>• Vibha Dhawan, PhD, Director General, The Energy and Resources Institute (TERI)</li> </ul>	Press Conference 2 Area C LINK	COP Delegates
Wed. 13.11.2024	COP29 Faith Pavilion
17:00-18:30	Dialogue: The role of faiths at climate discussions For many years different faith communions and faith based organizations been attending COP and UNFCCC meetings. Some of them have been around since the start of the climate	Faith Pavilion	COP delegates

	convention and some have come very recently. The reason to attend might have different nuances. Some come to offer space for reflection and spiritual recovery for people attending COP. Some have advocacy as their primal reason to participate. Another reason might be to bring the voices of those in their communities vulnerable to climate change. There might also be some faith based organisations might have ambitions to cover these aspects and some others.
Friday 15.11.2024	COP29 Side Event
11:30-13:00	Non-Economic Climate Impacts: Faith-Based Insights for a Loss and Damage Fund .This event will examine the Loss and Damage Fund's role in supporting vulnerable communities with a human rights approach, highlighting the need to address both quantifiable and non-quantifiable impacts crucial for community well-being and resilience. Organised by: The Lutheran World Federation, All Africa Conference of Churches, Brahma Kumaris, Dominicans for Justice and Peace, Franciscans International, World Council of Churches	Room: SIDE EVENT 5	COP Delegates
Mon 18.11.2024	COP29 Faith Pavilion
10.30-12.00	Just transition to sustainable food system in communities The pursuit of a sustainable food system is essential to the resilience and well-being of people and the planet. The event will emphasize the importance of communities in fostering food sovereignty and spiritual empowerment, ultimately contributing to a more just and resilient society. Speakers: Sister Jayanti, Add. Admin. Head of the Brahma Kumaris Ms. Rania Rashad's, BfdW Climate Justice Advisor in the MENA Region - Steve Chiu, Representative to the UN, Buddhist Tzu Chi Foundation, Youth from the Lutheran World Federation	Faith Pavilion	COP delegates

